Rebel Naval Men Of Greece Threaten To Bombard Piraeus

Ancient Port of Athens to Be Shelled if Government Does Not Resign, Says Insurgents' Admiral

Government Victory On Land Reported

Associated Press
Ghazgheli, Greek—Jugoslav Frontier, March 7.—Reports reaching this frontier town today said Admiral Demosthenes, commanding the Greek fleet, had withdrawn the Greek cabinet he would bombard Piraeus, the port of Athens, unless the government capitulated immediately.

The British battleship Royal Sovereign and the French destroyer Verdon are standing by in the harbor. Meantime the rebels showed no signs of surrender.

To add to the government's worries, it was reported today that unemployed in the tobacco growing districts of Kavala had issued a proclamation against the government.

MAY RECALL KING
The internal situation in Greece has become so serious in the last forty-eight hours that the government is reported to be discussing the question of recalling former King George from India and restoring the monarchy as the only means of saving the present chaotic situation.

This idea gained in strength since M. Metaxas was appointed temporary Minister of War, succeeding General Kondylis, who is directing the military campaign against the rebels in Macedonia.

Metaxas is known as an ardent royalist.

Meanwhile life in the country remains paralyzed. Foreigners living in Athens declared the revolution, which has the sixth anniversary within twenty-six years, will put Greek progress back at least twenty years.

CONSULS AT PIRAEUS
The revolution is clearly an internal affair. However, British and French consuls have arrived at Piraeus to protect subjects of their respective countries and their property in the event of a bombardment by the insurgents.

Worked by the growing seriousness of the situation in Greece, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia are strengthening their forces along the Greek border in order to prevent Greek fugitives from invading their countries.

Gold Bloc In New Move Soon

Associated Press from Rome
Rome, March 7.—Premier Georges Trounelli of Belgium revealed this afternoon he had sent a note to the French government suggesting consideration by nations comprising the gold bloc of new means of collaboration.

The Belgian premier's action reflected concern recently expressed by industrialists that Belgium would lose her best export customer, Great Britain, if the pound continued to fall. Similar fears have been expressed by exporters in the Netherlands, France and Switzerland which, with Belgium, comprise the gold bloc.

Want of Confidence Motion Is Defeated

Vancouver Member Attacks Budget and House Refuses Amendment on Unemployment by 30 to 9

The C.C.F. members of the Legislature challenged the government late yesterday evening with division on the unemployment measure as an amendment to the budget and were defeated by 30 to 9.

Harold Finch, Vancouver East, carried the opposition with an attack on what Mr. Finch described as the government's bankruptcy in action, the Liberal members' bankruptcy in debate and the province's bankruptcy in finances.

The government made no reply in debate and put the issue to a vote before continuing the debate on the main budget motion.

TROOPS AT BORDER ARE PROTESTED

Associated Press
Geneva, March 7.—Bulgaria protested informally to the League of Nations today against concentration of Turkish troops along the nation's frontier, and the Turkish delegate responded that his nation could not remain indifferent to military measures which Bulgaria was also taking along the Greek frontier.

WAGE ORDER IS PLANNED

Transportation Industry to Come Under Minimum Soon

The entire transportation industry of British Columbia, including bus drivers, truck drivers and other modes of carrying goods and passengers, with the exception of things carried by rail, water or air, will come under minimum wage and hours of work regulations as soon as the Board of Industrial Relations is empowered to fix wages for youths. It was announced by Adam Bell, chairman, this morning.

"We have had this matter under consideration for some time," Mr. Bell said, "a delegation from the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, which met him this morning, and asked wages be fixed for bus drivers." In view of legislation now before the House which will enable us to deal with youths under eighteen years, it was thought advisable to wait until these powers were conferred. There are many young men and youths engaged in transportation occupations, and it is proposed to make the order very comprehensive in scope.

TWO-YEAR ARMY PLAN IN FRANCE

Paris, March 7.—The cabinet's expected approval of return to a two-year term of military service was delayed today till next week, due to the absence from Paris of Foreign Minister Pierre Laval.

War Minister Louis Maurin outlined to the government the reasons for extending the present military term of one year, which has been urged because of the lean years due to the low birthrate during the war.

DOLLAR IS 98 5-8 ON EXCHANGE

New York, March 7.—After yesterday's wild fluctuations, the pound sterling fluctuated quietly on the foreign exchange markets here today, and confined its movements to fractional range.

The pound closed at 94.74 for a net gain of 1/4.

The Canadian dollar was up 5-16 at 14 1/2 per cent discount.

The French franc, closing at 6.87, showed a loss of .003 of a cent.

PRAIRIE COLD SNAP SUBSIDES

After Sub-zero Temperatures, Prairie Has Promises of Warmer Weather

Calgary, March 7.—Alberta and Saskatchewan got a welcome forecast from the Weather man today after a night of sub-zero temperatures had skidded the province to new low marks for the week.

It was warmer in Manitoba as the cold wave which has held the prairies in its grip since the week-end moved eastward into Ontario and Quebec.

Medicine Hat took the lead in Alberta's icy column with a reading of 24 below, followed by Edmonton at 22, Lethbridge at 19 and Calgary at 16, but the mercury was rising this morning, and the forecast for Friday was "milder," and the same prediction stood for Saskatchewan.

Battleford, Sask., and White River, Ontario, held the low mark for all Canada, each registering a minus 30 during the night, Winnipeg was an exception to the cold rule, with the mercury 6 above zero.

TWO FIGURES IN EUROPEAN SECURITY DISCUSSIONS

Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, was speaking at a recent banquet in London when the above picture was taken. Inset, Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, who, Sir John announced today, will visit Moscow and Warsaw. Sir John was to have arrived in Berlin today for conversations, but Reichsfuhrer Hitler last Tuesday cancelled the invitation.

Denial Is Made Britain Enters New Arms Race

Addition to Forces Now Proposed Is Not Comparable With Increases in Those of Other Nations, Says Rt.-Hon. Anthony Eden, Giving Government's View

London Papers' Opinions Vary

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Swindon, Eng., March 7.—"We must have some regard for the cold realities of the present situation," declared Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal and the cabinet's disarmament expert, in a speech here this afternoon in which he warmly defended the new famous government white paper on armaments.

This document, initiated by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, accompanied the increased defence estimates this week and among other things explained them by saying that if German rearmament continued "unabated and uncontrolled," a situation would develop in which peace would be imperilled. It was promptly followed by Berlin's postponement of Anglo-German security talks scheduled for this week-end.

Mr. Eden opened with a sentence of regret over Adolf Hitler's indisposition, given by Berlin as the reason for postponing the visit of Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, and Mr. Eden. This was the only direct reference he made to Germany.

RELY ON LEAGUE

He then plunged immediately into the international situation. "In my view," he said, "there is no security in armaments comparable with that which can be derived from the effective working of a collective peace system."

"The foreign policy of His Majesty's Government is unalterably based on the League of Nations as being the most effective mechanism yet devised to operate such a system."

"It will, I am confident, be clear to any impartial critic on examination that the moderate measures of national defence provided for do not constitute in themselves any departure from that policy."

Magistrate Resigns

Verden, B.C., March 7.—Hugh A. Begbie has forwarded his resignation as police magistrate here, to the Attorney-General, terminating service since 1913 in that capacity.

BIG MAJORITY FOR ONTARIO LIBERAL

Canadian Press
North Bay, Ont., March 7.—J. Harry Macdonald, Liberal to-day boasts a second majority for members of the Ontario Legislature. Final figures for the March 4 riding riding by-election returned by William Aubrey, returning officer, to-day, show Mr. Macdonald's majority over E. J. Lawrence, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate, at 4,582. His total votes were 10,931 against 4,409 for Mr. Lawrence.

PROPOSE BAN ON LOG EXPORT

Australia and Japan Taking More Means Less Work in British Columbia

As the forestry committee of the British Columbia Legislature commenced a study this morning of British Columbia's overseas lumber markets, the advisability of banning all raw log exports was raised, and the general opinion, supported by J. M. MacDonald of the B.C. Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' Association, was that such a ban would directly benefit the industry in this province.

Mr. MacDonald, while reviewing trade with various countries, showed how the Australian and Japanese demands for raw logs had been increasing. Last year British Columbia shipped 68,000,000 feet to Australia.

MORE MILLED LUMBER
"Taking the long range view, there is no question that prohibition of this practice would be of benefit to the industry," he said. "It would mean more milled lumber being shipped and, as far as Australia is concerned, would bring to their attention the need for revising our preferential treaty with them in regard to lumber."

In reply to a question by B. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm, as to what would happen if raw log export was stopped, Mr. MacDonald said Ontario had found that when a ban was laid down many more mills were built.

"There's no doubt," said Mr. Bruhn, "as long as we are foolish enough to ship raw logs these other countries will take advantage of it. And the Pacific northwest of Canada and the United States is the only place they can get them."

Mr. MacDonald, Liberal, Vancouver-Point Grey, suggested the possibility of reaching an agreement with Washington and Oregon lumbermen not to ship raw logs, because it was just as much in the interest as it was for British Columbia.

"We might find that even more difficult than the 'salmon treaty,'" said Mr. MacDonald.

The committee also discussed the question of unified control for merchandising of forest products, and Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F., Mackenzie, proposed setting up an organization such as the Timber Distributors Limited of England to handle sales in the Far East.

Mr. MacDonald recommended the system of having field men in every country where the province sold lumber to any large extent.

Contrasts Aid To Railways

C.P.R. President Quotes C.N.R. Figures in Reply to Statement in Commons

Montreal, March 7.—E. W. Beatty, C.P.R. chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to-day issued a statement in reply to that tabled in the House of Commons Monday which set forth that Dominion Government aid to the Canadian Pacific Railway "had totaled $100,000,000, as against a total amount of $33,870,017 given to the Canadian National Railway."

"This is a totally misleading statement," said Mr. Beatty. "The figures in both instances are quite wrong, as can easily be discovered by looking up government records."

"Of the 25,000,000 acres of land granted, 6,793,014 were returned to the government for a consideration of $10,000,000, leaving a net grant of 18,206,986. The parliamentary statement duplicates these figures."

"The total grants shown as given to the C.P.R. includes amounts given to lines now operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and amounts were received by the lines prior to the date of their acquisition by the C.P.R. In so far as this company is concerned it is erroneous to consider such aid as given to the Canadian Pacific Railway."

RELIEF ON FUEL TAX FOR BOATS

Government Plans Adjustment to Lighten Load on Industries

Reduction of the fuel tax as it affects diesel oil and gasoline used in the lumbering, fishing, mining, shipping, and other industries is expected to be announced by the government within a few days.

S. S. McKen, member for Point Grey, made an appeal in the Legislature yesterday for a lightening of the new burden placed on these industries when Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, tightened up on gasoline collection to put a stop to bootlegging.

It is understood the government was greatly impressed by Mr. McKen's protest, and that announcement of a 50 per cent cut in the tax where the gasoline or oil is not used on the highway is now to be made. This means the gasoline tax a straight road tax.

The plan under consideration is that tug boats, logging and mining machinery, fishing craft, shipping generally and agricultural and other machinery using diesel oil or gasoline as a fuel will pay only one cent instead of two cents a gallon.

The usual seven cents tax on gasoline will apply on vehicles that ply the public highways. The rebate for others will be six cents instead of five.

Mr. McKen pointed out that diesel oil costs less than six cents a gallon and that a two-cent tax is a tax of 33 1/3 per cent, a prohibitive rate on struggling basic industries.

New Sales Plan For B.C. Lumber

Vancouver, March 7.—British Columbia lumbermen plan a new selling department to specialize in lumber sales in Great Britain, according to an announcement. Constantly increasing importance of the United Kingdom market and the desire to improve business facilities and good will between timber trades in the two countries is reported responsible.

The new department will confine its efforts to the British market and its work will include a close study of British trade requirements. Present trade channels will be utilized to the fullest extent.

While organization of the new department is in its preliminary stages, no indication of the proposed management is available.

SPEED RECORD 276.8 MILES HOUR

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL

Canadian Press
Daytona Beach, Fla., March 7.—Sir Malcolm Campbell scored a new world land speed record in his Bluebird racer on the sands of the beach here today, bettering his own mark of 272.168 miles an hour.

Sir Malcolm made a new record of 276.816 for the measured mile over the course, reaching 272.737 miles an hour on the southbound run and returning with the wind behind him at a speed of 281.030 miles an hour.

PLANS NOT STATED
Immediately after his victorious assault on his own previous record of 272.168 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm announced he would return to his Bluebird to the timing tower, and his show for the day was over, though he did not say he would not attack the new mark before returning to England.

Expectations to-day were that Mr. Bennett, who has been absent since February 25 because of illness, would return to his seat in the Commons next Monday.

TEN KILLED BY BIG BLAST

Number Injured by Premature Explosion at Utah Oil Well

Associated Press
St. George, Utah, March 7.—A premature explosion in an oil well claimed the lives of ten persons yesterday evening and injured at least a dozen others. The explosion was a spectacular "shooting" of the first well in this district.

A charge of nitroglycerin, dropped into the unfinished well, exploded prematurely, ripped the derrick from its moorings and hurled it on the crowd, which surrounded the well. The terrific blast rocked the countryside five miles south of here.

Score were thrown to the ground. Others were knocked down in the rush to escape the blinding sheet of flame which accompanied the blast.

Associated Press
Ottawa, March 7.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett gave notice of motion to-day he would move in the House of Commons for establishment of a national economic council.

The council would be called the Economic Council of Canada. Although the notice of motion gave no details concerning its organization, reports current in parliamentary circles said it would resemble the National Research Council and would act in an advisory and co-ordinating capacity for economic activities in much the same way as the Research Council has done for scientific affairs.

Premier Hoped to Be in Commons To-day; Physician Decides Against It

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 7.—After attending to a considerable volume of pressing governmental matters in his apartment yesterday, with the intention of returning to the House of Commons, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was ordered back to bed to-day, not having fully recovered from the illness which has kept him confined since February 25.

It was stated Mr. Bennett had over-estimated his strength and would probably not return to his office until Sunday.

Mr. Bennett, Sir George Perley, acting as house leader in Mr. Bennett's absence, will bring up the unemployment insurance bill in the House to-day. The measure is in committee of the whole for some final details before third reading. It was held over awaiting the return of the Prime Minister.

Premier Will Ask Parliament to Vote Approval of Convention of International Labor Organization Signed at Geneva

Debate Expected To Start Next Week

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 7.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett to-day gave notice on the order paper of the House of Commons he would ask approval by Parliament of a draft convention of the general conference of the International Labor Organization at Geneva concerning creation of minimum wage fixing machinery.

The draft convention for which the Prime Minister seeks parliamentary approval provides that each nation ratifying it shall be free to determine what nature and form of minimum wage fixing machinery shall be adopted.

It contains conditions, however, that call for consultation between the government of the member country of the International Labor Organization and representatives of employers and workers concerned before adoption of any machinery.

IN EQUAL NUMBERS
It also specifies that representatives of employers and workers shall take part in operation of the machinery in any way that shall be determined by law, but in such a way that the numbers of their respective representatives shall be equal.

It provides that minimum rates of wages which have been fixed shall be binding on employers and workers concerned "so as not to be subject to abatement by them by individual agreement, except with the general or particular authorization of the competent authority, by collective agreement."

Expectations to-day were that Mr. Bennett, who has been absent since February 25 because of illness, would return to his seat in the Commons next Monday.

GORDON TELLS ABOUT BONUS

Minister of Labor at Ottawa Denies Charges From Regina

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 7.—Denial there had been any "controversy" interpretation of the 10 bonus act for farm laborers given Saskatchewan government officials by the Department of Labor, or that payment of the bonus had been restricted to farm laborers from urban centers, was given today by a spokesman for Minister of Labor W. A. Gordon.

Speaking before the convention of rural municipalities of Saskatchewan in Regina yesterday, Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Municipal Affairs, was quoted as having charged Mr. Gordon with giving a "directly contrary" interpretation of the act.

He charged also that Mr. Gordon had ruled only farm laborers from urban centers eligible for the bonus, thus disqualifying 50 per cent of farm laborers in Saskatchewan.

Based on a ruling given by the Ottawa minister, Mr. Gordon said, the Saskatchewan minister for public welfare, T. M. Holley, had notified recipients of the bonus that the bonus would end January 31.

It was stated at the Department of Labor that no instructions had ever been given to end the bonus on January 31 and that, immediately upon learning such instructions had been issued by the Saskatchewan authorities, the Dominion Government had advised provincial officials of the error.

The federal treasury in Saskatchewan would take over administration of the bonus agreement and continue payments to the end of the fiscal year, March 31.

The bonus is effective in the province for transient, single, homestead men. It is paid by the federal treasury, but selection and delivery of the bonus is by the province. Some 5,500 men were recipients of the bonus in Saskatchewan at the end of January.

It was stated that the origin of those who receive the bonus, it was stated, but if farmers' sons were being transferred among other farms and receiving the bonus, it would also be better to go ahead with such work as long as it is out of the way before undertaking the great rebuilding program which will confront the area in 1937.

Denial Is Made Britain Enters New Arms Race

"Our devotion to the League and to the collective peace system has many times been demonstrated in recent years," said Mr. MacDonald.

He cited British initiative and participation in the dispatch of an international military "police" force to the Near East to settle the dispute between Hungary and Yugoslavia, growing out of the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia at Belgrade.

"But," Mr. MacDonald continued, "we must have some regard to the cold realities of the present situation. I myself hold that peace cannot be fully secured on earth until all nations are not only members of the League, but are inspired in their national policy with the spirit of the League covenant."

The truth is that at present the collective peace system is in a state of evolution, and until all nations share equally in the desire to co-operate in working out that system, there can be no collective peace.

It has an obligation not only to ward off another, but towards their own people, to take these elementary precautions which are the responsibility of every government."

By ALL MEANS

The Lord Privy Seal went on: "We must continue to use every means to work by every means in our power to increase the authority of the League, and to ensure that the duty of recognizing that all countries do not share this aim."

"You may be a member of a fire brigade yourself, but would you be wise to sit back and wait until an emergency if some of the members had already given notice they would not come and play their part when sent for? Surely there would then be no obligation on you while responding whenever the alarm bell rang, to ensure at the same time that the fire escape was working at your own house?"

It was useless for them to close their eyes to the fact that in the course of the last few years there had grown an increased servitude in Europe. To meet it the British government was endeavoring to bring about a European settlement which would finally result in all countries being active members of the League.

CONTRAST SEEN

"At the same time," Mr. MacDonald added, "we cannot ignore that while increasing anxiety in Europe and elsewhere has resulted in many countries increasing their armaments, our own armaments have shown no comparable increase."

Whereas the trend in the armaments of the nations as a whole had shown a definite increase in the post-war period, Britain's armaments had shown a reduction, he added.

A group of Jugoslav airplanes flew over the battle zone in Macedonia to ascertain the condition and strength of the rebels.

SAY BOMBERS ROUTED

Paris, March 7.—A press dispatch from Athens today said government troops in a smashing victory completely routed insurgents in eastern Macedonia, killing 1,000, wounding 3,000 and capturing 700.

The dispatch, which gave Bulgarian sources as the authority for the estimates of casualties, said the loyalist forces were commanded by General Kallistras.

They launched a mass attack against rebel positions previously occupied by government planes, the report said.

WARSHIPS IN GULF

Paris, March 7.—A correspondent of the newspaper L'Intransigeant reported today from Athens that rebel warships were approaching Thessalonica in the Gulf of Salonika, 135 miles from Athens.

ISLANDS GO OVER

Athens, March 7.—The islands of Samos and Chios capitulated to the rebels today after a visit by the ships of the fleet. It was officially announced.

PROTECTION FOR BRITISH

Athens, March 7.—The 20,000-ton British battleship, Royal Sovereign, arrived in Piraeus, the port of Athens, and dropped anchor today.

TROOPS MOVE FORWARD

Athens, Greece, March 7.—Government troops, equipped with heavy artillery, poured through the Struma valley today intent on crushing the rebel forces.

Battled by heavy rain and mist for the last twenty-four hours, the loyalist forces halted clearing sites for the signal for the advance of the offensive they expect will exterminate the last vestige of revolutionary activity in the Salonika section.

The troops, estimated to total 30,000 men, outnumbered the insurgents eight to one, were deployed along a wide front.

The rebels awaited the "zero hour" line deep in mist in whether-foolish old trenches which have stripped the Salonika plain since Great War days.

Their contingents were stretched along the front line from Deirina Lake to the mouth of the Struma, which British troops held in 1917 and 1918.

LAND ON ISLAND

The possibility the insurgents on land might receive aid from the sea as the cruiser Averoff, flagship of their fleet, anchored off Mytilene on the island of Mytilene and landed a detachment of marines.

The island is off the Turkish coast and within easy reach of Kavala, still held by the rebels despite a bombing yesterday.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

The atmosphere of war-time pervaded even those sections of Greece remote from the scenes of conflict. Martial law was everywhere in effect. Rail, telephone and telegraph communications were severed and a strict censorship imposed on the press.

Contrasts Aid To Railways

"It should further like to say that the payments to the Canadian Pacific Railway in land and cash were neither subsidies nor bonuses, but were payments constituting part of a contract providing that in return for such payments the company was to build and maintain in perpetuity the line across Canada which could not possibly have been built without such government assistance as this.

LAND SETTLEMENT

"Another part of the contract was that the company should populate the prairie provinces with settlers," continued Mr. Beatty. "The company has already spent over $100,000,000 of its own money in this work. Also it paid in taxes in Canada up to the end of last year over $130,000,000.

COMPARISON WITH C.N.R.

"The newspapers' report of the parliamentary statement quotes the cash subsidies to the Canadian Pacific Railway as $33,870,017, thus leaving the inference that the comparison between the aid granted the Canadian Pacific Railway and that granted the C.N.R. in the relationship of $100,000,000 to $33,870,000. For a complete picture of total aid to the Canadian National Railway all loans and cash contributions of the Federal Government must be taken into consideration. The Duff report on pages 67 and 68, summarizes the total government outlay for the Canadian National Railway to end of 1931 as follows:

"Canadian government railways $468,769,537. Canadian Northern Railway $65,400,000. Grand Trunk Railway $127,740,000. Grand Trunk Pacific Railway $123,227,490. Canadian National Railway $125,281,218. Total Canadian National Railway group $1,204,687,245."

GUARANTEED SECURITIES

"In addition to the above figures, the government carries responsibility for guaranteed securities in the hands of the public totaling $970,563,500, and as owner of the publicly-owned railway group $1,204,687,245, which figure is exclusive of over $500,000,000 of interest due on government loans and yet unpaid. Since 1931 additional outlays of many millions have been added."

OIL AND GASOLINE

The plant and stocks of the Standard Oil Company at Salonika were impounded by the government and motor trucks and other equipment owned by foreign business enterprises commandeered for military purposes. Wounded soldiers arrived in Salonika.

Government planes cruised over a wide area, showering towns and villages with leaflets enjoining the population to remain calm.

SILENT AT NIGHT

Amid the tension the children of Athens, wearing masks and balaclavas, made a brave show of observing the traditional pre-Lenten carnival spirit. At night, however, the melancholy silence of a "city of the dead" enveloped the Grecian capital. No one is allowed to move about the streets and all social gatherings and public entertainments have been banned.

Hotels are jammed with travelers prevented by chaotic transportation conditions from returning to their homes. Foreigners residing in the battle area have departed for safer districts.

The government, unusually observing the movements of Nicholas Pasteris in Italy, sent an urgent request to the Italian authorities to prevent him from departing for Greece. Pasteris, in Milan, asserted through a secretary that he had no intention of going to Greece.

NEWS TO LONDON

London, March 7.—The Foreign Office announced today the presence of the battleship Royal Sovereign at Salonika was to be a purely official communication and for the possible security of British subjects.

The British minister at Athens can send reports of the situation from Salonika from the battleship, but no alarming reports of the situation at Athens had been received in London today, it was said.

Socializing the breweries, he said, would yield the province $1,500,000, because the Liquor Board is paying $17.50 a barrel for beer, whereas the price in Seattle and Montreal are $9.50 a barrel.

EDEN SOON TO VISIT MOSCOW

The Baby's Health Won Back

Restoring health to a wailing baby is done right along by Pacific Milk. Hundreds of letters from mothers, some of them eloquent with grateful feeling, reveal the depths to which the heart has been touched, when a beloved baby has been brought back to health from a really grave condition. May we say these mothers give thanks to Pacific Milk. We are very pleased to acknowledge their kindness.

GOLD THEFT IS MYSTERY

Detectives Try to Learn How $102,000 Taken From Airport at Croydon, Eng.

London, March 7.—Scotland Yard had another puzzling case on its hands to-day—how, and by whom, three boxes containing gold worth $102,000 ($102,000 at par) were stolen from the administration building at the Croydon airport.

The keys were missing, and an outside door to the strongroom was open, but the inner steel door was closed and the boxes gone.

They were difficult to handle on account of their weight, and how they were removed from the administration building and the airport itself without attracting attention of half a dozen officials constantly on duty is a mystery to the investigating detectives.

No fingerprints were found, and this is taken to indicate the robbers were gloved.

Tuesday evening the three boxes—one filled with United States gold pieces, another with British sovereigns and the third with bar gold—were placed in the strongroom.

A guard stands constantly near it. A police station is only seventy yards away. Airport employees are constantly moving about the ground.

Yet the gold was missing yesterday morning.

Loan Proposals To Aid China

London, March 7.—Definite proposals for a loan to China were made to the British Government by Mr. John Simon, Foreign Secretary, today.

The statement was made in reply to a request from William Munn, a Conservative, for a statement regarding the proposed loan to China.

Mr. Simon added the government was watching the Chinese financial situation closely and attached great importance to co-operation between the powers primarily concerned, confirming that Britain is in touch with those powers on the loan proposals.

Had 2 or 3 attacks of LUMBAGO each year for 10 years.

"Almost every year," writes Mr. John McCreary, Toronto, "anything that caused me to catch cold in the spring or fall brought on the most terrible sharp pain in the small of my back."

"About 2 years ago some one told me about T-R-C's (T-R-C's Rheumatic Cream). I got a box, I never had to buy another. The first few doses drove the pain from me and it has never returned."

Pain and stiffness vanish when you use T-R-C's. No harmful drugs. T-R-C's give quick, safe relief by taking your blood clean and helping drive out the poisons that cause Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica (stabbing hip pain), Neuritis, (including Tic Douloureux), Pains Nerve, Rheumatism, Headaches, etc. and it has never returned."

Stop needless misery—take T-R-C's. Millions sold every year.

WORLD WHEAT PACT IS DEAD

Nations Give Up Attempt to Control Exports for Remainder of Year

London, March 7.—The 1933 world wheat pact admittedly was a dead document to-day, five months before its normal expiration date. The "Big Four" wheat nations yesterday gave up attempts to secure Argentine co-operation in controlling exports for the remainder of the crop year.

The pact had been held that anything could be done at this late date, owing to Argentina's repudiation of the pact at Budapest last November on the grounds it was unfair to her and the refusal of the Buenos Aires government to accept new proposals last month.

Until yesterday, however, the other delegates had maintained that Argentina was bound by the tentative quotas adopted last in 1933 for the current year, under which Argentina's 1934-35 shipment was restricted to 148,000,000 bushels.

Now the other delegates admit there will be no further enforcement of any provisions of the wheat pact of the twenty-eight nations.

All the Big Four countries—Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina—will begin planting in the next few months without any agreement, whatever so far as the world pact is concerned.

There was a further exchange of views among the Big Four to-day, and there may be more to-morrow, in an effort to find some basis for a renewal of the wheat pact for two years, beginning August 1. It is certain, however, that Argentina will make no commitment.

OTTAWA STATEMENT
Ottawa, March 7.—With debate pending on the wheat situation in Canada, which will be brought into the House as a result of the government's measure to inaugurate a Canadian grain board, official circles are backward about entering into any discussion on failure of the world pact.

The world wheat pact was originally arranged to limit production or export of wheat in face of steadily growing world surplus. Since then, however, the crop in the United States last year was so small that instead of being an important export country she has been importing. Canada has also had two comparatively small crops. Against this, crops in some of the importing countries have increased.

The most recent review by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics indicated a reduction in the world surplus of wheat to carry-over of 193-32,263 bushels at the end of the last crop year, July 31, and the review expressed belief it would be lower this year.

Warned Against Abduction Hoaxes

Los Angeles, March 7.—Joseph E. P. Dunn, director here of the U.S. Department of Justice, warned screen celebrities yesterday the United States government would not tolerate kidnapping and abduction hoaxes.

The warning was issued as Director Dunn prepared to investigate the $100,000 extortion threat Thelma Todd, picture film actress, reported she had received last February 27.

Director Dunn said that "if it is a bona fide case my office will work day and night to solve it. But I want it distinctly understood our office will not tolerate nor be used in any cheap Hollywood publicity stunt."

CLAIM NEW FLAX GOOD FOR NORTH

Canadian Press
Edmonton, March 7.—Distribution of seed supplies from the University of Alberta of flax seed, a variety that is ten days earlier than kinds usually sown in the central prairie region, where most flax has been raised heretofore, promises "to move the flax growing area north and to increase production by stabilizing output, according to Dr. G. S. Ascroft, professor of plant breeding at the university.

Five-year test results, both plot and field, showed an average yield of 20½ bushels, almost double the Alberta average. Last year, by maturing before the early frost, it was the only variety to grade 1 c.v. of seven under test.

Private Trade in Russia Ended

Associated Press
Moscow, March 7.—Private trade in the Soviet Union has been finally eliminated with the exception of such minor forms as market vending and the like, it was officially announced to-day.

The Bolshevik ideal of direct exchange of products without the medium of money is yet far from achievement, it was admitted, but victory over private trade was regarded as an important step on the way.

Figures were made public showing that private trade in the U.S.S.R. during 1934 was 1,000,000,000 rubles (the ruble is nominally 50 cents), while in 1935 it was reduced to 200,000,000 rubles.

Still another important announcement was made to the effect that sale of goods on ration is to be reduced to 7 per cent of the total turnover. Such staples as sugar, potatoes and butter can still be purchased, but only in limited amounts in the so-called "closed" stores, where especially fixed prices prevail. These purchases can be supplemented in the "open" shops, where the general public buys.

As a step toward eliminating this double system, a 3,000,000,000-ruble reduction in the turnover of closed shops is planned for this year, to be accompanied by a shift of trade to the open shops.

WHEAT MARKET FACTS WANTED

Liberal M.P.'s Desire Information on Operations as Board Plan Discussed

Ottawa, March 7.—While the Liberal party will not oppose establishment of a wheat board, it is understood it will insist on complete disclosure of the government's wheat operations. The party caucus yesterday was said to have canvassed the situation widely.

Western Canada Liberals were advocates of a wheat board years ago, and it was said, continue to be so still. Before any organization could operate, however, it would require to know just what J. L. McFarland, general manager of the Canadian wheat pools had been doing, and what, if any, liabilities had been incurred.

At the same time, the western Liberals voiced themselves strongly against any suggestion that the government's bill might contain seeking to reduce wheat acreage in the west.

ENGLISH HOMES AND GARDENS

Architecture Died in 1835 With Gothic Revival, Says Brian Cook

"House people consider that English architecture died with the Gothic Revival. For others, including myself, it perished with the Gothic revival in the nineteenth century," said Brian Cook, speaking at the Crystal Garden yesterday evening under the auspices of the National Council of Education, on the subject of "English Homes and Gardens."

Asserting that the beauty of the gardens of Victoria was as great as that of the houses, Mr. Cook said that he had written a book on the subject of English architecture and gardens, and that the course of architecture from the Norman Conquest to the present day was the subject of his lecture.

The speaker illustrated his lecture with a set of more than 100 beautiful slides of typical English houses, gardens, and scenes.

"Homes" and Mr. Cook, "must be one of the oldest words in the English language. The consideration of shelter probably came even before that of clothing."

Passing briefly over the Roman occupation, which belonged to the history of Rome rather than that of Britain, the speaker outlined the development of English architecture and the outside influences whose effects are to be seen in the various periods.

The Norman kept his own house in dark, castle, with towers in the center, he said. These kept contained one big hall on the first floor with kitchen below, and a solar, or withdrawing room, above. The whole life of the dwelling revolved around the hall. There everyone ate, the lords and ladies sat at high table and the common people below. The lords and ladies had tiny sleeping chambers off the hall. The men slept together in the common room.

The keep was surrounded by out-houses, then by a high wall and a moat. The whole arrangement was planned for defense.

The defensive type of architecture persisted right down to the fifteenth century, to the time of Henry VIII and the Reformation. Then all of a sudden houses began to look more like houses.

Sudden change
This sudden change in the building plan was due partly to the Reformation, after which people stopped building churches and started building houses, and mainly to the influence of the Renaissance. Before this time the building had been planned for convenience, and the windows put in where they were needed. After the Renaissance, the windows were placed to fit the windows.

The classical influence began to be felt in the architecture and internal arrangements of houses, and became steadily more pronounced up to the eighteenth century when it received some purification from the hands of men such as Wren and Inigo Jones.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century the Greek influence brought a revival of the simpler type of house, beautiful specimens of which are to be found in Carlton House Terrace and Regent's Park in London, and in the crescents of the open squares, Lexington and Chestnut.

Almost exactly 100 years ago there was a sudden revival of the medieval or Gothic style. St. Pancras Station in London, the House of Parliament and the curious rows of hideous little houses built in the Victorian era, are examples of this style.

In 1900 there was a return for a time to simplicity. "To-day," said the speaker, "there is the spectacle of buildings erected upon rows of hideous sites, taking any style which they see fit."

Mr. Cook explained the reason for the widely different building materials employed in various parts of Britain. In the Cotswolds all the houses were of the same grey stone. In the chalk and clay districts they were of brick and timber, though in some cases building stone had been imported from Caen in Normandy, a cheaper process than the laborious transport of those days from the limestone quarries in the Cotswolds. The houses were mainly timber or plaster.

Mr. Cook showed briefly how the gardens had followed the style of the houses, ranging from the little back yard or the castle days to the geometrical box-garden squares of the classical period, and then to the overgrown wilderness of the hideous Gothic revival.

At the conclusion of his lecture Mr. Cook showed a series of slides depicting the English countryside in its changing moods from the early spring and summer to autumn. "All England," he quoted, "is a garden. The countryside is a big garden park."

Text of Hon. F. M. MacPherson's Statement on Garage Business

Replying in the public accounts committee yesterday to allegations that the Hanson Garage in Cranbrook, with which he is connected, had received an undue share of government business, Hon. F. M. MacPherson, minister of public works, submitted a statement covering all the points at issue. His full statement follows:

"My attention has been called to an item in The Vancouver Sun under the heading 'Probe Government Accounts—Something Fishy.' Also to an article in The Vancouver Province. In these two articles are several misstatements of fact, which I feel I should correct."

"The particular subject of the articles is the business done by the government of this province with the Hanson Garage Company, Limited. This company was incorporated in the summer of 1928. It has been stated I am the largest shareholder of the company, a director and the president. None of these statements are true. It is true I am the second largest shareholder, but I am neither a director nor an official."

"It is also stated that the Pioneer Garage Company, which was owned by the Hanson Garage Company Limited. This is not true. It is also stated in one of the articles that the North Star Oil Agency is practically under the same ownership as the Hanson Garage Company Limited. This is not true. I have no interest nor has the Hanson Garage Company Limited any interest in the North Star Oil Agency."

"In the Sun article it is stated that the Hanson Tire and Battery Company is under the same ownership as the Hanson Garage Company, Limited. This is not true, either. If you will recall, this concern is one of those complaining."

"The Hanson Garage Company Limited, despite the fact that the government was in the market for Ford cars and parts, received practically no business for the last five years. The cost to the government was more than it should have been, as the parts would have been subject to a discount of 25 per cent, and I do not consider it unfair or unreasonable that the Ford agency in Cranbrook should now receive the Ford business in the Cranbrook area just because I am a shareholder in the company."

OTHERS TO REMEMBER
"You must remember that there are other shareholders and men employed with homes and families. I do not see where there is any injustice in the Hanson Garage Company Limited receiving additional business."

"As to the other business given the garage, I know nothing about it until I saw the figures."

"Now, with respect to the amount of business that went to the Hanson Garage Company Limited in 1934, month under the government's arrangements with the department of national defence, in connection with relief camps, the department of national defence requisitioned from time to time for equipment. This past fall, among other requisitions, it requisitioned for a number of trucks for the Cranbrook area. As Ford trucks are approximately $100 lower than its nearest competitor, I do not see where there was anything out of the way in purchasing the Ford trucks from the Hanson Garage Company Limited. The business would have gone there whether I had been a shareholder of the company or not."

"I would also like to say that this company has never taken any business that properly belongs to dealers in other territory. During the term of the last government, which also bought Ford cars, their purchases were 1,335 licenses were issued."

New Move to Check Traffic Offences

Chicago, March 7.—That old argument between car motorists and truck drivers moved a long way toward settlement to-day.

Chicago's 6,000 surface lines motorists were made special traffic police, and were instructed to report all serious traffic violations, especially those involving peril to street car riders or pedestrians.

MILK CONTROL PLAN SUCCESS

Toronto, March 7.—As a result of the operations of the milk control board, which has been active for less than a year, the Department of Agriculture estimates the farmers of Ontario have benefited to the extent of $2,500,000 in actual cash, according to the annual report of the board tabled in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Under the Milk Control Act, it was stipulated, all persons except storekeepers and peddlers who sell milk to consumers, must hold a license from the milk control board. During the year 1,335 licenses were issued.

M.P. ASKS ABOUT CLOSING OF MINE

Ottawa, March 7.—Any move to close the Anyos smelter and mine in British Columbia would be a matter for the provincial government to look into, Sir George Perley, acting leader of the government, told the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

He had seen a telegram requesting the Minister of Labour to take the matter into consideration, but believed it to be primarily the concern of the provincial authorities, he said.

The question was raised by Old Hanson, Liberal, Skeena, who asked if the government had heard of the threatened closing of the smelter and mine. He claimed it would throw more than 1,500 men out of employment.

THE IMPORTANT TOURIST TRADE

 of Commons yesterday of $200,000 for the Dominion-wide promotion of the tourist trade, the recent substantial provisions made by Quebec and the Maritime Provinces for the same purpose and the interview between important delegations from Victoria and Vancouver with the provincial government on the subject, reflect the measure in which the value of this traffic is now realized all over Canada. Up to recent times British Columbia, particularly the coastal part of the province, and Quebec, were the pioneers in the practical intensive promotion of tourist business as a capital economic asset. It is only within the last two or three years that the federal authorities, following the organization of a national tourist association, largely on the initiative of Mr. Warren of this city, have entered the field with a bureau under their own direction.

Six years ago, Hon. R. J. Manion told the House of Commons yesterday, the value of the tourist trade to Canada was estimated at $309,000,000. Last year this figure had dropped to $140,000,000. The minister thinks the industry eventually should be worth $500,000,000 a year. Of course, it should be remembered that the traffic, as far as Canada and the United States are concerned, does not, and will not, operate one way. At certain seasons of the year there always will be a big movement of Canadians to the southern states, but on the whole Canada should enjoy a very large net income from the trade.

The doubling of the Dominion vote yesterday for the promotion of tourist trade should not be used as an argument for the relaxation of efforts in that direction by the provinces or municipalities which have established tourist bureaus, because it would require many times $200,000 to meet Dominion-wide requirements. California alone spends $1,500,000 a year for this purpose. British Columbia should not lose sight of the fact that the growing drive for tourists, especially from the United States, involves spirited competition among the Canadian provinces, each of which has its own peculiar attraction. While this province excels in mountain scenery and climatic advantages, in other scenic and recreational attractions it has strong rivals in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, to which the major part of tourist travel from across the line now goes.

Moreover, there is a very strong competitor in Mexico, which now has a highway to its beautiful capital and which undoubtedly will divert a large proportion of motor car travel southward. British Columbia must advertise much more heavily than she is doing now to hold her own. Mayor Leeming significantly pointed out to the government yesterday that last year while 102,000 United States cars entered British Columbia, actually 140,000 British Columbia car entries were recorded at United States points. The big shipping strike across the line no doubt accounted for the discrepancy, but in any case it is imperative that the publicity organizations in Victoria and Vancouver should be provided with considerably more funds to enable them to carry on their work.

Advertising abroad, however, must have behind it a decent system of highways, or it can not possibly accomplish its purpose except in a limited sense. If our roads are permitted to show too glaring a contrast with the magnificent highways across the border line, not only will we not hold motor tourist travel from the outside, but our own motorists will prefer to move southward. This is something to be borne in mind by those who share Dr. Manion's optimistic opinion that the tourist business ultimately will be worth $500,000,000 annually to Canada. The best advertiser is a satisfied tourist, and motor tourists—at any rate—who come to British Columbia are not going to be satisfied unless our highway system is put in a reasonably good condition. Since the Dominion government is taking a hand in the promotion of this business it should co-operate with the provinces in providing adequate highways. Beyond this, also, is the urgent necessity of preserving our natural beauty spots, many of which are gradually being imperilled by commercial exploitation.

FED UP!

RT. HON. ARTHUR HENDERSON,
 chairman of the Disarmament Conference, which has talked more disarmament than disarmament—is reported by The London Daily Express to be contemplating resignation from his position as head of that body, adding that he will probably inform the House of Commons that "it is useless for me to go on in the face of growing armaments all over the world."

It must be obvious to everybody that while there is more talk of peace than ever before, more pacts being signed supposedly to preserve peace, the nations of the world are spending more on armaments than they were spending before the Great War—described "as the war to end war"—was fought.

Armament expenditures as provided in the budgets of the principal powers are startling. For example, the United States proposes an expenditure of $792,000,000 this year, an increase of $180,000,000 over the total of 1934. Great Britain will spend, principally on aircraft and naval vessels, $620,000,000, an increase of $51,000,000. Germany is reported to be jumping to an increase of $164,000,000 for a total of $348,000,000—and she is supposed to be disarmed. France's increase this year of $52,000,000 will bring her total outlay up to $792,000,000. Japan goes ahead with an increase of $24,000,000 to bring her total budget for this year, a record, to $262,000,000. Italy plans an increase of $27,000,000, and this does not take into consideration the cost of her expedition into Ethiopia. Russia will spend a billion roubles.

The British government's new armament budget has caused a stir in continental Europe. It has caused Hitler to call off his meeting with Sir John Simon, Britain's Foreign Minister, scheduled for today in Berlin, and a section of the British press is wondering why it was that on the eve of this meeting in the cause of European peace the government presided over by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald should come out with its bigger armament budget, and publicly criticize Germany's growing fighting equipment.

The London Daily Telegraph, while pointing out that the navy estimates "will disappoint those who know best how dangerously short the British navy is in modern cruisers," suggests that a new international naval agreement is necessary—"unless the naval powers are bent upon ruining themselves in a mad race to financial destruction."

The Telegraph puts the situation mildly. Extreme though the Laborite Daily Herald may be, it drives home the point that the announcement of armament increases as a whole is an affront to Germany, and, by implication, halted the discussions which were to have taken place between Sir John Simon and Hitler—and, presumably, afterwards, with the heads of the Soviet government at Moscow. All of these projected conversations have been hailed for some weeks past as the beginning of a new understanding between the nations of Europe that would make for collective security.

Next Monday will be the day on which Mr. Henderson will be expected to announce his resignation as chairman of the Disarmament Conference, a position he has held for three years, and it is safe to predict that, if he shall do so, he will emphasize the ominous situation in which the world finds itself with the collapse of the disarmament movement. There is now in plain prospect a hot competition in armaments, the end of which will be wholesale revolution—either with or without war.

A SWORD—NOT FOR BLOOD

Lauritz Melchior, heroic tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, celebrated his hundredth performance of "Siegfried" on Friday afternoon, February 22. He first sang the opera in Magdeburg, Germany, in 1925, under the direction of Max von Schilling. The tenor also has sung it under the direction of Wagner's son, Siegfried, and under Arturo Toscanini.

The hundredth performance was commemorated when a sword, to be used in future performances of the opera, was presented to Mr. Melchior by George Bech, Danish Consul-General in New York. The sword was forged according to old medieval tradition, the work being done by Kenneth Lynch at his forge in Long Island City. Mr. Lynch, a member of the Armor and Arms Club, is noted for his restoration of ancient armor and weapons for museums and collectors, and was helped in the design of the presentation sword by Stephen V. Grancay, Curator of Arms and Armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Recently Mr. Lynch received wide attention when he forged, in six hours, an exact duplicate of a collector's medieval sword. Happily, however, this sword will not pierce the human body.

UNWIN AND CONRAD

A FRIEND OF AUTHORS AND THE
 benefactor of every booklover died in southern England the other day. He was Mr. T. Fisher Unwin, the head of the great publishing house over which he had presided for many years, and he lived to the good old age of eighty-seven.

One of the proudest recollections of Mr. Unwin, when he retired nearly ten years ago, was that it was he who "discovered" Joseph Conrad, whose tales of the sea have thrilled the world. From his early days in the business of publishing, however, he was the friend of the unknown writer, and had a remarkable flair for discovering talent. Mr. Unwin's "Pseudonym" library was a success from the outset, and was responsible for adding many best sellers to the publisher's list. For example, it contains such well-known names as S. R. Crockett, E. H. M. Dell, H. de Vere Stacpoole, Somerset Maugham, H. G. Wells, and many others. He also published John Galsworthy's first novel under a pen name.

Incidentally, it is interesting to note that Mr. Unwin used to sit at the desk of Richard Cobden, the illustrious anti-Corn Laws writer, whose daughter he married. The House of Fisher Unwin, some time ago amalgamated with Ernest Benn Limited, occupies a remarkable position in the realm of British publishing.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BUSINESS NOTES

The Detroit News

Theodore Roosevelt was known as the trust buster. Franklin Roosevelt may win fame as the holding company buster. He has made a long study of these companies, particularly in the public utility field, and it looks as if he is ready to strike at them hard, with an angry public opinion supporting his efforts.

THE FOR THE CRITICS

The New York Sun

Sniping at the policies of the Roosevelt Administration increases and outright insubordination threatens within the lines. But all these case questionings and even the Senate rejection of the world court seem rather remote and academic in the face of the latest upheaval—the revolt of Democratic members against the high price of pie in the House restaurant. The price is 15 cents for a "mere silver." The insurrectionists demand a 10-cent rate for a generous wedge, the kind that used to obtain in the American home, presumably.

THE BURDEN OF MUNICIPALITIES

The Winnipeg Free Press

The Calgary conference also took the position that the policy of complete federal responsibility, in times like these, should be made retroactive, and that the Dominion should assume the relief debts of the municipalities—over $4,000,000 for Winnipeg to date—or repay the relief expenditure where it has been made out of revenue. That is a proper claim to make. Since the beginning of the abnormal relief situation, the responsibility has been federal and not local, and the municipalities should not remain for years under the handicap of heavy relief debts which they should never have been obliged to incur.

Across the Bay

The government survives the first opposition threat—as we had rather expected—but not until we have spent a hard day—and talked and listened until we are worn out.

By BECK HUTCHISON

SURVIVAL

THE House endured and heroically survived its first emotional test of strength, political, physical and intellectual, on Wednesday. All day long it talked and listened and listened and talked until nearly midnight. It accomplished the great purpose of all these labors. It turned down its first want of confidence motion by refusing to report, at the request of the C.C.F., that "there is no due consideration (in the budget) of the problem of giving the unemployed work and wages."

It is the ancient tradition of this curious business that a want of confidence motion like this, once moved, must never be alive over night. It must be voted on before we go to bed. It is a grave threat hanging over the head of the ministry, over the government of the country during the night, even though it doesn't mean a thing.

It was necessary, therefore to sit out the opposition with grim patience, wait until it had talked itself out, and then to vote down its budget amendment without dignifying it by a reply. This was done after a hard, weary day without the least damage to the government's majority, the C.C.F. getting no votes but its own vote of Mr. Hugh Savage, of Courtenay-Nanaimo, and Mr. Tom Uphill of Porne and Monor.

OLD FRIEND

MR. BARROW, that dear old friend of everybody, opened the day with a talk on agriculture which had about it the good, wholesome flavor of the soil. In this House for the last couple of decades Mr. Barrow has been the chief champion of the farmer, the original father of marketing legislation and planned agriculture. All the present efforts by governments in Canada, Britain and the United States to manage their farming industry through price fixing and other such means were foreshadowed years ago by Mr. Barrow's early struggles.

After years of discouragement, he is beginning to see those ideas succeed at last and in no small measure his success is due to his untiring study and his undying faith in the farmer and the land. No orator, Mr. Barrow has about him such a power of friendship, such an influence on those through his simple honesty and disinterestedness, that he accomplishes much more than most of our spectacular performers.

VANCOUVER MAN

MR. McKeen, of Vancouver, appeared for the second time this session just to say a few words for his city, which is regarded by the up-country member as a sort of monstrous town, a parasitical growth on the economic body, Vancouver, he suggested, was come to the province after all and when Mr. Manson, of Okanagan and Point Grey, objected, in a friendly way, just as a little joke, Mr. McKeen replied that his friend seemed to like the little town pretty well since he spent most of his time in it.

Mr. McKeen defended the budget, made a rattling good talk on the tourist industry, urged the government to give the publicity bureau the $60,000 grant they are seeking at present, and finally advocated some relief for industry from the fuel oil tax, too heavy a burden in this highly-competitive world.

DIVISION

THE REST of the afternoon was devoted to a spirited debate on mothers' pensions. Mrs. Steeves wanted a House committee to investigate pension administration, but the government saw no need of it. After Mrs. Paul Smith had announced changes in the system to aid pensioners. Dr. Weir called to aid of the charges against his women officials the "phantasmagoria of an inflated imagination," a phrase matched by the other master of phrases making, Mrs. Steeves, when she called the government's attitude "a monument to sterility," and asked the members whether they were wax dolls to be nodding their heads when the government pulled the strings. This was sufficient to stop the government majority which turned down Mrs. Steeves on a straight party division.

FROM KASLO

IN THE evening Capt. C. S. Leary, the Liberal whip and a genial soul liked by all, delivered a speech full of ideas which he has evidently been developing in the last year in the section of Kaslo-Steeles. Most notable of them was the proposal that the government undertake a large lottery for hospitals and another for the unemployed. To do this, of course, it would be necessary to secure changes in the Criminal Code and to this end Capt. Leary asked the House to request Parliament to take the necessary action.

Newspapers for charitable purposes had succeeded in Ireland and Australia, he said, and he could see no distinction in morality between them and the thoroughly legal sport of horse racing. Trying to suppress the gambling instinct of the human animal, said he, is like trying to enforce prohibition. The thing to do is to rationalize it and devote it to useful purposes.

Capt. Leary thanked heaven that the C.C.F. hadn't been elected for, by this time, the province would have lost the confidence of the banks, of the federal government, of all sources of revenue and the country would be in chaos. If the government were able to produce employment for the people, he said, undoubtedly that would be the end of the C.C.F. for good. And while he was all for giving the unemployed work he could not overlook the fact that in his riding, where relief lists were heaviest, still, people spent $50,000 on liquor last year, most of the contributions to the government's revenues on this score being unemployed on the dole.

He gave the House a great deal of valuable information on lumbering and the future of our forests, in which he is deeply interested as a lumberman and as energetic chairman of our forestry committee.

YOUNG RADICAL

YOUNG HAROLD WINCH, delivering the major effort of his career to date, and the first real indication of C.C.F. policy, was rather too tremendous as he started, rather too shocked at the government, rather too indignant about everything. But he has an undoubted flow of natural oratory, a burning enthusiasm which makes his black eyes flash and his whole body tremble, and what is more important, a talent for drugging investigation which will be useful to his party.

His criticism of the budget was the usual routine we have heard many times before. What interested the House most was the last fifteen minutes of an hour's speech, when he came out flatly with the C.C.F.'s preliminary plans for socializing the brewing industry, the distribution of gasoline, and the fire and automobile insurance business. This, he sought to prove with elaborate figures, would give the government huge new revenues to improve the condition of the people, without affecting the present machinery of production or distribution in the least.

His generous offer to give his plans in detail to the government was not accepted and his amendment regretting the lack of work and wages there to being sponsored a movement by two of our aldermen to fold upon the citizens of Victoria "daylight saving."

his peculiar belligerence antagonized the Liberal benches so much that they were nearly empty.

Mr. Swales, the retiring C.C.F. gentleman from Delta, wound up the night with a brief speech, most of the House having gone outside for a smoke. He marveled at the curious phenomenon by which, with balanced budgets year after year, British Columbia still increased its debt annually. But he wasn't much worried about our debts since Mr. McGeer had assured him they would never be paid. This Mr. Swales found very comforting.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—We are so glad to see the proposal for daylight saving in Victoria. It would mean a great thing for all we people who are confined to offices and stores all day. When we leave the office at 5 o'clock the warmth of the sun has gone and the best part of the day is ended as far as we are concerned. If daylight saving was put into effect it would mean we would be able to have an extra hour of afternoon sunshine when we leave the office. We are sure there are hundreds who would agree with us. We're hoping the daylight saving will go into effect.

THREE OFFICE WORKERS.

ALDERMEN AND DAYLIGHT SAVING
 To the Editor:—Surely many of our citizens like myself, must have been surprised to read in your paper, and hear announced over C.F.C. that there is being sponsored a movement by two of our aldermen to fold upon the citizens of Victoria "daylight saving."

If it were not so pathetic it would be rather amusing, for evidently these two gentlemen have not yet grasped the seriousness of the days we are living in.

When governments, mayors, yes, and some aldermen are at their wits' end, trying to solve the great problems of the day, do they think for a moment that hundreds of unemployed are interested in daylight saving? And then, many in our city are working short time. I ask those gentlemen, do they think daylight saving is going to help solve our problems?

It is time we acted like men and forgot such a farce as putting a clock forward or backward, thereby trying to fool ourselves. God Almighty, when he created the earth, gave us light and dark, day and night, and pronounced it good, and I don't think either Mr. Willis or Mr. Worthington, or even our City Council, is capable of improving on this. Let us, then, let the city fathers know that their task is not to meddle with the clock.

CONQUEROR OF DISEASE

The Panama Canal was made possible because of an obscure physician in Cuba discovered that yellow fever, the disease which ravaged the tropics, was spread by a certain type of mosquito, the "anopheles." The discoverer was Dr. Carlos J. Finlay, a Cuban.

By clearing up the swamps where this insect bred, Major William C. Gorgas, in 1914, reduced the death rate from yellow fever in the Canal Zone to six per thousand.

To-day Dr. Finlay is honored by a Cuban issue of two commemorative stamps marking the centenary of his birth.

Sees Value in Market Control

E. D. Barrow, Liberal, Chilliwack, Tells How Agricultural Markets Are Being Regulated; Reduction in Proportion to Distributor on Mainland Urged

Reduction in the spread given distributors under the milk marketing scheme on the lower mainland so that it would at least be equal to the amount received by the farmers, was advocated by E. D. Barrow, Liberal, Chilliwack, in the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Barrow said marketing control would have to be widened. The tendency over the world was toward control of production and fixing of prices. Critics should not be so ready to condemn the movement because it was designed for the good of all. It was evident that until farmers got a fair return for their goods and had money to spend prosperity would not come back.

The Chilliwack member spent some time explaining the milk marketing control system on the lower mainland, and said he had been assured by many people that when the price of milk was raised one cent a quart the general reaction was that as long as the farmers were getting the increase it was all right if not, it was all wrong.

There was not doubt, he said, that by fixing the spread between producer and consumer, the board was indirectly fixing prices. Even at that the farmers were not getting any exorbitant price. Out of every dollar paid by consumers for milk of 3.4 or 3.5 test, the farmer who paid the freight and did all the work, got 45 cents, and the distributors 55 cents.

Let me show you, for a minute, just what kind of conditions farmers were laboring under before," he said. "They were getting 27 cents per pound butterfat, which meant that on high test milk they would have to produce fifty gallons of fluid milk a day to receive what we might consider a fair wage of $5.

"This would mean milking twenty-five cows twice a day, and before 7 o'clock in the morning, don't forget. In addition, they had their investments in cows, feed and land. Under the marketing system they were getting 55 cents per pound butterfat for fluid milk. This was not the net price on all production

BACKS GRANT FOR TOURISTS

Vancouver Member Makes Plea in Legislature for Extra Publicity Fund

Support for the Vancouver and Victoria business men's demand for a $25,000 tourist publicity appropriation was voiced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by S. S. McKee, Liberal, Vancouver-Point Grey.

"When a group of business men who represent the public that pay 75 per cent of the taxes of this province feel it is good business to spend $25,000 in this way, we as custodians of the affairs of that public should give favorable consideration to their advice.

"They are prepared to spend their own time and money and say that they will put up dollar for dollar of their own money. They have offered to look after the investment of this money at no cost to the government and will welcome a government representative to be associated with them in supervising the expenditure. "I say this is good business. The tourist dollar goes through the whole community.

"By taking this step we are building up an industry in British Columbia. The tourist industry is the one industry in which we can eat our cake and have it. We sell our scenery but they can take it away.

"We spend great sums on our other natural resources and practically nothing on this one. But this is one natural resource that we can use without depleting it. We should spend more money on our tourist business."

Mr. McKee in the course of his address congratulated the Minister of Finance for having made a good job in his budget out of the meagre materials at hand.

To Herbert Asanomb's suggestion that he had not saved as much as he should, Mr. McKee replied that of the $5,000,000 alleged saving by the late Tolmie government over $4,000,000 was simply unloaded on the municipalities and was no saving to the taxpayers at all, while the rest represented the extent by which that administration had in three years increased expenditures from $25,000,000 to $29,000,000.

To suggestions that the government is not coming to the assistance of the municipalities as it should, Mr. McKee replied by comparing the finance minister's position with that of a tugboat on a rocky shore near a lot of smaller craft similarly situated.

The tugboat would like to help the others, but being short of fuel would only imperil itself without helping the others unless it took the time to get an adequate supply of fuel.

"The Minister of Finance is working on these lines," he said.

DUNCAN

Duncan, March 7.—St. John's Branch of the A.Y.P.A., Duncan, held its first birthday party in St. John's Hall on Tuesday, when members of St. John's congregation and the Chalmers A.Y.P.A. were guests. H. Graham welcomed the visitors. Court whist, games, competitions and dancing were enjoyed. Winners at whist were Miss Pat Dwyer and S. H. Hoskins. Mrs. A. Whistler, on behalf of the Senior W.A. of St. John's, presented the A.Y.P.A. with a small birthday gift. Miss Helen Lemon spoke on the origin of the A.Y.P.A. Vocal solos were given by Miss L. Langlois and Miss J. Jackson. Mary Cummins, Beattie Buckmaster, Alan Gwyn and Roland Fawcett provided entertainment. Norman Boudreau was master of ceremonies. Refreshments were served under the direction of Miss Irene Fraser.

because it was not all sold as fluid milk, part going into manufactured products.

IN BETTER POSITION

"We figure we are in a better position than before and we are looking to an improvement now in the market for the manufactured products," he said.

In this connection he warned against too much entertainment of the idea that the United Kingdom was a ready market for surplus B.C. dairy products. That market was in a state of demoralization due to the huge influx of exports, and 40,000 New Zealand dairymen were on the verge of bankruptcy because they could not command fair prices on the United Kingdom market.

He explained how the dairy marketing board there, controlling the system with a levy on the liquid milk which was applied to the surplus market. Consumers were charged as high as twelve cents a quart for fluid milk, but they got butter, cheese and similar products at less than the cost of production.

Steps were being taken to correct the whole state of the United Kingdom market because the government realized that ruin of dairymen abroad would reflect seriously on the export trade.

WHAT HOLLAND IS DOING

He told also how Holland charged home consumers enormous prices for butter, as high as 71 cents a pound, to subsidize exports. A plan of eliminating 200,000 dairy cows to prevent over production was also in process of consummation.

Marketing experts in New Zealand had also advised that production should be materially reduced.

"You will see from these things it is evident we must have power to control production and set prices," he declared. This is the underlying idea behind the English movement. We must realize that the movement for controlled marketing all over the world is designed to be for the benefit of everyone.

"It was all right to talk of spending money on public works to provide jobs, and similar palliatives, but the whole point was if the farmer did not have money to spend the country would never be prosperous."

Mr. Barrow contended the consuming public had nothing to fear from the control of its foodstuffs supply. When the Fraser Valley went into the retail business and controlled the situation, Vancouver consumers paid less and farmers got more for their milk than in any other area in Canada. Ordinary business experience showed that an increase of price beyond a certain level is met by reduced buying and a loss to the producer.

Long Life and Security

THE Metropolitan Life Insurance Company began publishing "Health Hints" for its policyholders in 1871 and ever since has carried on its efforts toward better health.

The Company cooperated with government officials in a campaign against a threatened cholera epidemic in 1892 and thus began its cooperative work with public health organizations.

In further developing its activities in the field of health, the Metropolitan organized its Welfare Division in 1909 and, at about the same time, a nation-wide nursing service was established for Industrial policyholders.

Subsequent health records demonstrate the value of these services.

During all these years the Company has worked shoulder to shoulder with national, provincial and local health organizations to stamp out preventable disease.

New low mortality figures were recorded in 1934 for practically all of the diseases against which public health forces have directed special preventive efforts — notably typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, infant mortality and maternal mortality. During this year the good record of previous years continued to obtain among Metropolitan policyholders.

Comments

Following are extracts from questionnaires sent out by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to secure views and suggestions from summer tourists:

"Tourists from States are accustomed to cafeterias and prefer that kind of eating place."

"We came for motoring and boating."

"We came to see British customs, styles and buildings and were well pleased with our trip."

"Hotel rates are too high for what benefits you get and hotel help a little bit highbrow."

"I think your information service is very good."

"We came for the trip on the Princess-Norah up the west side of the island."

"What do you say to Victoria is that it is so different to the States."

"Why ask me what brought me to Victoria? Beauty. Just look out of your own window."

"We came to Victoria because it is one of God's garden spots."

"We are vacationing near the poorhouse."

"Put up some really good road signs. Remember a tourist is not a mind reader."

"You have really the beauty spot of the northwest."

"We came for the horse racing."

"Everything was satisfactory even if it did rain."

"I think more shops catering to tourists should be open on Sundays."

"People fine; roads fine; service fine."

"We came for cricket, soccer football, yachting and swimming."

"Your information bureau could not be improved."

"We came for Canadian scenery, not for your beer, which is terrible. One glass at Vancouver was all I wanted."

"Oh, how it does rain in that country."

"We feel we would like to locate between Duncan and Victoria."

"Automobile Association very fine."

"The shops are a pleasure to go into."

"I want to return to Victoria because of the perfect treatment I received while there."

"It is the quiet refinement of it all that attracts me to Victoria."

"Oh, leaving Victoria with regret."

"I like the democratic attitude of the people."

"Fishing drew me."

"It rained, but I realize you have no control over that. Sometimes it even rains in California."

"Object to vigorous advertising at the hotel landing."

"Motels are poor at giving signals."

"We had a splendid vacation and have told our friends all about it."

"We came because of the sports for middle-aged people."

"We came for the drives along the beautiful highways and the gorgeous flower gardens everywhere."

"We came to see a bit of Canada, raved about by friends."

"We surely enjoyed a good cup of tea, port pie and sausage rolls."

"Please put up red flags in front of speakeries so tourists will know where not to park."

"We came for fishing but having a lady with me did not fish. Women and fish don't mix well."

NO NEW WHARF. COUNCIL TOLD

Duncan, March 7.—Grants to the Salvation Army and the Cowichan Health Centre were referred to the finance committee for consideration by the estimates by the city council on Tuesday. The annual subscription of $45 was authorized to be paid to the United B.C. Municipalities. Replies were received from the Department of Marine and Fisheries and from C. H. Dickie, M.P., stating that the building of an assembly wharf at Cowichan Bay would not be possible at the present time. A resolution from the Dominion Government to pay half the cost of a tree. Accounts totalling $1,196.32 were passed for payment.

The council went into committee and appointed A. J. Castle to the position of streets foreman, the date for the commencement of his duties to be left to the streets committee to arrange.

ALBERTA. March 7.—The new roller skating rink at the Athletic Hall was the scene of an invitation "no host" skating party on Tuesday evening, when a group of fifty residents of the Alberni and Great Central Lake enjoyed skating, followed by midnight supper. Among those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. P. Weaver, Captain and Mrs. C. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. P. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McLean, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Pines, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bignmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wyke, Mr. L. Toder, Miss Anne Prescott, Miss Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. J. Williamson, Miss Marjorie Brown, Mr. W. Chelwin, Mr. Walter Lammers and Mr. Fred Manning.

Mr. J. Wright of Bowser is spending a holiday in the city the guest of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Clarke Wright.

NANAIMO. March 7.—Thirty-five members of the Malaspina Chapter, I.O.G.E., attended the monthly meeting held in the Eagles Hall Tuesday night. Miss Gladys Hindmarch, regent, presided. Delegates were appointed to attend the Empire celebration meetings and money was collected for the Queen Alexandra Bazaar fund. Tentative plans were made for a bridge fashion parade. Miss Lenore Davidson was presented with a bouquet, as an appreciation of her valuable work in compiling and illustrating the chapter's scrap book. Funeral services for Miss Elsie Wilson, Indian girl who met her death under tragic circumstances, at Nanaimo River, were held yesterday afternoon at the Indian Church and Cemetery. The church was taxed to capacity to accommodate Indians from the various tribes. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. H. Wright and the hymns "Abide With Me" and "Heaven My God to Thee" were sung in the English and Indian languages by Sam Smith, Pellibara was given by G. Wise, E. Jones, W. Morris, R. Jones, A. Hanson and D. Brown.

An exhibition rugby game between Nanaimo and the Victoria Canadian Scottish scheduled to be played at Nanaimo on Sunday, March 10, has been postponed until March 17.

STRAWBERRY VALE. The members of the Wilkeson Road United Church Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society held their monthly meeting at the parsonage, Glyn Road, on Tuesday. The morning prayer meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. Jones. The general meeting was held in the afternoon with the president, Mrs. Albert Allison, in the chair. The temperance secretary, Mrs. Massey, reported that several pupils in the Wilkeson Road Sunday school had received honors in the recent temperance examinations. A discussion on "The Kingdom of God" movement was led by Mrs. A. Jones. Mrs. Sheld and Mrs. Ayrie. In connection with this movement the weekly prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Forest, Old Beach Road, on Tuesday evenings, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. The

PENSION PROBE TURNED DOWN

House Defeats Opposition Proposal on Mothers' Pension Administration

By a vote of 35 to 9 the government was sustained in the Legislature yesterday in refusing a C.C.F. motion for an investigation by a House committee into the administration of mothers' pensions.

The division followed an hour's debate in course of which Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard, announced that increases in the pensions in the coming year would result in mothers with two or more children being put back on the basis of $7.50 extra per child. Thus a woman with one child will get $35, a mother with two children $42.50 and so on in the higher brackets.

Mrs. Smith also pointed out that administration of mothers' pensions had been changed in the last six months and it was only fair to give the new officials a trial before launching an investigation.

The government would be only too willing to increase allowances were the funds available, she said, but this was not practicable just now. Should the age for dependents be raised to eighteen years, it would cost from $55,000 to $65,000 a year. If the act were widened in respect of husbands' disabilities, desertions and divorce cases, another $36,000 or $40,000 would be added.

BELIEVE MUNICIPALITIES

She counselled the Minister of Finance, in the course of his municipal programme to believe cities of all the charges for mothers' pensions.

In conclusion she pointed out the British Columbia allowances were more generous than any in Canada.

Ernest E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, opposed an amendment moved by Mrs. Smith that the investigation should be refused. The government could not give an unbiased opinion in its own administration and should let an impartial House committee inquire, he said. He criticized the use of spinsters as investigators in pension cases because they were not sympathetic as married women would be.

Thomas Uphill, also opposing the amendment said investigators had no right to set budgets for widows on pensions and he charged that "some who voted right got better treatment than others."

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, challenged him to cite a case, and Mr. Uphill told him to "come up in my riding and see."

Jack Price, C.C.F., Vancouver East, and R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm, both opposed the amendment and then Dr. Weir replied for the government.

He first of all pointed out that trained investigators would act just as humanely as any other kind. If married women could be found to fit the jobs better than those now sent to the department would be perfectly willing to consider them.

There had been charges that investigators intimidated pension applicants, he said, and threw out a general challenge to anyone in the house to prove such cases. If they were proven the investigators in question would be dismissed.

Dr. Weir told the House with conviction that if the government could afford it, the mothers' pension allowances would be doubled or trebled as the necessity arose. But at present the government was dealing with "attainable realities," not "unattainable ideas."

It had been suggested investigators be eliminated, but this would mean the loss of thousands of dollars yearly.

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, who made the original motion for the investigation, said she was glad to have the assurance, which had been given by Dr. Weir, that no reprisals would ensue against complaining applicants, because she would write to those who had submitted their grievances to her asking if she could take up their complaints.

The government, proposing no action, was just like other governments, she said, "a monument to sterility."

Mrs. Steeves concluded the debate and the division was taken.

The Victoria Women's Conservative Association will hold a "daffodil tea" on Wednesday, March 14, in the room, top floor, Campbell Building, at 3 p.m. A good programme is being arranged. There will also be a home cooking stall. Reservations for table may be made by telephoning G 514 or Mrs. A. B. Sinclair, R 3097.

"TOOK ALL KINDS OF PILLS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF"

Constipation, Due to Insufficient "Bulk," Relieved by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

A fine letter from Mrs. Snyder: "I have had trouble with my bowels for years, taking all kinds of pills and drugs, with no relief."

"One year ago, I saw Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and bought a package. I have good movements every day. I am 75 years old. I am telling my friends what bran has done for me."—Mrs. Sallie Snyder. Address upon request.

"Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals."

Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood.

Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient to correct common constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resides in the bran hulls of wheat. It is in leafy vegetables. How much better to use this food in place of patent medicines.

At all grocers in the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Theft of a Lenin camera from the show window below his studio on Port Street was reported to city police yesterday by H. O. Knight, photographer.

W. J. Amelino, M.P.P., Alia, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Victoria West Liberal Social Club this evening at 8 o'clock, in the clubrooms. All Liberals and friends are invited to attend.

The Musical Festival Association will open its office at 223 Pemberton Building from Monday next to Saturday, March 11, to receive entries for the festival. The office will be open each day from 10 till 6 o'clock.

The works and grounds committee of the Saanich School Board yesterday evening was authorized to award the contract for the erection of two bicycle sheds at Mount View High School.

Chris Reimann arrived in town this morning with four cougars he shot behind Shawaniga Lake. The four will make nine on which Reimann will collect the ten dollar bounty this year to date.

Court Liberty Juvenile Foresters will hold their monthly meeting to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. News candidates will be initiated. A social will be held after the meeting and the members are reminded to bring cakes.

Blasting out of rocks in the Colquhoun River to prevent recurrence of the recent flooding conditions in the low lying areas will be sought from the Saanich Council by the Ward Four Ratepayers' Association. The council will receive the association request this evening.

Frank Merryfield, the Cornish wizard, and a concert party composed of some of the best local talent, will visit the unemployed Recreation Room on Port Street at 8 o'clock this evening. Mr. Merryfield with his magical illusions, read an excellent program put on by the North Saanich Service Club at Sidney on March 6.

City police are investigating a series of thefts of fruit from a garage leased by Eric Hubscher, 808 King's Road. On three occasions during the last two weeks, Mr. Hubscher has reported loss of produce from his truck, which is kept in the garage opposite 774 Hill Street. He has lost several pounds of bananas and six dozen oranges.

"Resolved that the present method of taxation of property and income rates has become an unfair and destructive of property values" will be the subject of a debate at a luncheon of the Real Estate Board of Victoria, to be held in Spencer's dining-room at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The debate will be opened by James Forman.

Thomas Cox, driver of the car which struck and fatally injured John A. Dames, 1176 Yates Street, last Thursday evening, was completely exonerated by a coroner's jury which yesterday investigated circumstances surrounding the accident. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death after being told of the difficulty of seeing a pedestrian on the poorly lighted section of Yates Street, between Ormond and Cook Streets.

Arrangements were made at the last meeting by the men parents of Rowley's Boys' Band to call a meeting of all parents to-morrow evening after the band practice at 8:30 o'clock in the band rooms, Port Street. The interest of parents and friends of the boys is growing every day. Arrangements are being made for many band engagements to-morrow evening. The bandroom is open to the public every Friday, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

The monthly meeting of Ward One will be held in the Liberal headquarters on Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. Two members of the Legislature, Major D. M. Mackay of Carleton Place, and Byron Johnson, senior member for Victoria, will address the gathering, and it is believed that they will give a review of Liberal legislation and current affairs. The federal Liberal candidate, J. C. McDowell, is also expected to speak. All Liberals are invited to attend.

Taking of evidence before Mr. Justice Robertson of the Supreme Court was completed to-day in the divorce action of Ruben Carl, 808 Blanshard Street, against Phyllis Mornington Carlson of Sidney. B.C. Judgment was withheld pending a hearing on the disposition of the child, which was set for March 12. The justice instructed W. A. Brethour, counsel for Mr. Carlson, to have Mrs. Carlson notified to be present as he said she apparently did not realize her position.

Rev. Harding Priest, general secretary of the general board of religious education, will be the guest speaker at a rally of the Anglican Young People's Association, under the auspices of the Victoria and District Council, which will be held in St. John's schoolrooms to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. An interesting programme of community singing interspersed with solo numbers, followed by refreshments, has been drawn up for the executive, and it is expected a large number of young people will be in attendance.

The funeral of Angus McKeown, who died on Tuesday, will take place to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving Haywards' B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, proceeding to the Metropolitan United Church, where Rev. E. F. Church will conduct the service at 2:15. Interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral of John Allen Dames, who passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital on March 4, following an accident, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Andrew's Cathedral. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father E. M. Scherian. Representatives from Victoria Court, No. 1256, Knights of Columbus, the Y.M.J. Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, No. 2, and the Pro Patria Branch attended the mass in a body. The numerous beautiful floral designs testified to the popularity of Mr. Dames.

The honorary pallbearers were: A. MacDermott, M. Doyle, O. Hartnell, W. Gagnon, M. McDonald, and A. Morry. The active pallbearers were: W. A. Brethour, J. J. Halliday, W. H. Robinson, E. Smith and H. Hartnell.

The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

GIVE VIEWS ON SUMMER TIME

In Favor If Surrounding Cities Adopt It, Says Mayor

"I am very strongly in favor of daylight saving time. There are few things that could give us a better opportunity of enjoying our summers more than advancing the clock. I am not, however, prepared to have Victoria on daylight saving time if the surrounding cities do not observe it," Mayor David Leeming said this morning.

"If the city alone practices daylight saving it will create an inequality which we cannot stand," the mayor commented. "In the tourist business we are trying to develop, we must conform with other cities of the northwest as far as possible."

The matter will go before the council in the form of a motion of Alderman Archie Willis, and seconded by Alderman James Adam.

Alderman Andrew McElvin and Alderman Walter Loney expressed approval of the proposal to-day. The latter spoke of its benefits to shop workers.

Alderman J. D. Hunter has also given tentative support to the plan, as has Alderman Alex Feden, although the latter was not present at the meeting. He would not be prepared to support it if discussion revealed it to be detrimental to the city.

The Young Liberal Club launched a meeting will be held March 13 to elect permanent officers.

A large and enthusiastic gathering of Young Liberals was held in the Liberal headquarters last evening, under the auspices of the Victoria Liberal Association.

With the object of forming a branch of the Twentieth Century Club in this city.

W. Kinman presided and spirited address was given by various speakers. After the meeting was opened by the chairman, Byron Johnson, M.P.P., stressed the importance of the youth of to-day taking an intelligent interest in the affairs of the Dominion.

J. B. Clearhouse showed the opportunities for leadership given young people in time of depression.

C. H. O'Halloran expressed his pleasure at being present at a gathering when so many young people were determined to take their rightful place in the ranks of Liberalism.

J. C. McDowell, federal Liberal candidate for Victoria City, followed with an address on "What Liberalism Means."

Reports were then given by the delegates to the Young Liberal Rally recently held in the city of Vancouver, and all spoke in an optimistic manner.

The delegates were W. P. Lawson, V. W. Speed, W. Harris, R. Doherty, Miss M. Miller and Mrs. Agnes McDowell.

After the reports it was unanimously decided to form a club and temporary officers were chosen. V. W. Speed was elected president, R. A. Rounding vice-president and L. A. Rounding secretary.

After some discussion, Wednesday, March 13, was chosen as the date for the first annual meeting, when permanent officers will be elected. The age of seventeen and thirty-five who support Liberal principles are eligible for membership and will be welcomed to the meeting next week.

Many Mourn Late Dr. A. W. Montague

An exceptionally large congregation of friends were present yesterday afternoon at funeral services for Dr. Albert William Montague.

Rev. Dr. O. Wilson conducted an impressive service, during which the hymn, "Abide With Me," was sung. Frank Tupper rendered as a solo, "When the Day of Toil Is Done."

A large number of beautiful floral tributes were received, testifying to the very high esteem in which Dr. Montague was held by all those with whom he had been associated. Among those present were many members of the Victoria Medical Association and representatives of the various hospitals and nursing staffs.

The following acted as pallbearers: Dr. W. H. Moore, Dr. W. M. Carr, Dr. J. A. Stewart, W. W. Ogden, Fred Maynard and J. A. Dewar. Interment was in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FUNERAL FRIDAY

The funeral of Angus McKeown, who died on Tuesday, will take place to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving Haywards' B.C. TWO "Y'S" HAVE BEEN PROVED

Associations Which Have Existed Sixty and Forty-one Years Proved Merit

No organization which depends for its existence largely upon public support can continue its operations successfully for sixty years without proving its merit. Sixty years of service is the record of the Y.M.C.A. in Victoria, officials of the organization point out.

The local branch is the oldest "Y" on the Pacific Coast and by far the oldest in the world. Whether vocational, educational or physical, in the city.

In conjunction with the Y.W.C.A. which has forty-one years in Victoria to its credit—also no mean feat—"Y" is appealing for public support in an intensive campaign opening next Monday and lasting for about ten days.

The associations cannot be self-supporting, owing to the large proportion of their work which is non-revenue-giving. Many of the most important activities of the associations come under this heading, notably the work of the two "Y's" for the unemployed and the Y.W.C.A.'s travel agency.

BOULDER DAM IS DESCRIBED

Samuel Armstrong Tells Rotary Club of Some Things He Saw on Colorado River

The gigantic undertaking of Boulder Dam and the tremendous expense involved, were briefly outlined by Samuel Armstrong before members of the Rotary Club at luncheon to-day at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Armstrong recently visited the site of the great dam. The subject of his talk was "Harnessing a Runaway River."

The dam is located in the Black Canyon of the Colorado River. Mr. Armstrong explained. This great river rises in the mountains of Utah and Nevada, and because of the snow fields there the flow of the river was subject to great variations. The Imperial Valley of California depended on this river for its irrigation, Mr. Armstrong said. This valley, however, was always in danger from floods, and the great amount of silt was continually causing much trouble.

For many years it had been the dream of engineers, the speaker continued, to create a basin where the silt could be deposited. After many years, when a market was found for the electrical energy, the scheme was definitely embarked upon. Six companies, with the aid of the United States Government, undertook the gigantic work, the government contracting to supply all materials, plus the permanent structure, and the companies supplying the men, the equipment and the sand and gravel. A rail line was built twenty miles to Boulder City, and from there standard gauge lines were built to the site of the dam. The sand and gravel were obtained ten miles upstream from the dam site.

ENORMOUS COSTS

Mentioning facts and figures, Mr. Armstrong said one of the contractors spent $45,000 for gasoline and $15,000 for tires in one month. Four great tunnels, incidental to the main work, cost $25,000,000, he said. Never before, Mr. Armstrong said, had such a structure in concrete been attempted, and because of this new problems were continually confronting the engineers.

Mr. Armstrong said he was struck by the quiet and precision with which the work was being carried out. As all the power was electrical, whistles would be used for signaling, and there was no confusion or disorder, the men signaling to each other instead of ringing bells. The men working on the dam were all specially trained, and as a result there had been very few accidents.

The height of the dam is the greatest ever attempted, Mr. Armstrong said. It is seventy feet high, and when completed the top will be an automobile highway. One giant spillway channel could quite comfortably float the Empress of Japan.

MADE APPEAL

C. Rochford made an appeal to Rotarians on behalf of the men and boys in the government relief camp at Ottery Bay. He said they were hungry for music and entertainment, and would welcome the visits of theatrical or musical groups from Victoria. Alderman James Adam and his committee will take Mr. Rochford's appeal under consideration.

T. H. Edick, secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association, announced that a "back-to-property" mass meeting will be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday evening, March 15, when the speakers will probably be Mayor Leeming, Mayor G. G. McGee, Robert Connell, Norman W. Whitaker, M.P.P., Herbert Anson, M.P.P., and Byron Johnson, M.P.P.

"When I agreed to an investigation of the city's finances at the request of the bondholders I accepted Bradshaw because we know that if he reports against a cut in interest then we will get no agreement from the bondholders," the mayor declared.

Mr. McGee said he expected to have Mr. Bradshaw's report to-morrow and would have a special meeting of his council to deal with it on Saturday. Next week it will be taken up with the private bills committee along with the council's committee.

During the hearing on the bill, a delegation of Vancouver business men staged a strong battle against the proposals of the council that wide licensing powers should be given them.

The committee laid over all the financial clauses of the bill until next week when they will be considered to the light of Mr. Bradshaw's report.

The Gumps

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a man thirty-six years old. Made a kid marriage which was none too satisfactory to either my wife or myself as our tastes changed when we got old enough to know anything. We had two children. We both stuck and made the best of things for their sake, but two years ago my wife and one child were killed in an accident. After my experience I swore I would never marry again, but now I have met a woman I am crazy in love with. She is my age, highly educated, good looking, fine business woman, most interesting talker, never a dull moment when she is around. She was unhappily married and is separated but not divorced. Says the reason she does not get a divorce is that she is afraid if she had one she would be foolish enough in some small moment to get married again. I am wildly jealous of everybody who comes near this woman. I am on her trail nearly all the time. I want to know what she is doing every minute of the day and night. I follow her, look for her car, go to her office after she has asked me not to. She says she cares for me, but if she does why won't she get a divorce and marry me?

E. M.

Answer—The answer to your riddle is plain enough. Your insane jealousy is your undoing. No woman who still retained her reasoning faculties, no matter how much in love she was, would be mad enough to marry a man who gave green-eyed every time she looked at another man. I am sure you know it was a matter of business, who demanded that she produce an alibi for every minute of her time and who followed her and snooped on her everywhere she went.

Any woman with a grain of sense in her head would know that no marriage could be happy that was built on suspicion, and that no husband could be so little desirable as one who even before marriage showed how monopolistic and tyrannical he would be if a woman was once in his power. She would know that marriage would be a hell on earth with a man who believed the worst of her and who did not give her credit for any sense of honor or loyalty or decency.

There would not be a chance of even living in peace with him, no matter how humble she was before him, no matter how much she let him keep her under the lock and key, no matter how discreet she was, because jealousy does not need any food to thrive on. It is an emanation of the thoughts in the heart of a man or woman who believes that the one he or she professes to love is capable of any sort of baseness.

You could not possibly offer a deadlier insult to this woman you add to marry you, and it is no wonder that she does not say "yes" to such wooing. According to your account of her she is a woman of character and principle, a woman of education and refinement and good breeding, a woman who so conducts herself that she has won the respect and esteem of all who come in contact with her, yet in spite of that, you believe her with your suspicions. Nice prospect for her if she marries you. Can you wonder that she does not rush into a lifetime of having to be put through a questionnaire every time she goes to the butcher shop, of having her slightest and most inconsequential act wrongly interpreted, of being afraid even to speak to her grandfather lest you put an evil construction on it?

You probably try to persuade her that marriage will kill jealousy and that although now you do not consider her trustworthy you will have perfect faith in her as soon as the marriage ceremony is said over you. Forget it. You will be even more jealous after marriage than you are now, because then you will think she belongs to you and has no right to any personal liberty whatever.

If you really love this woman, do not marry her until you have conquered the demon within you. Try to see that the very essence of happiness in marriage is faith.

The only happily married people are those who trust each other implicitly. When doubt and jealousy come in at the door love flies out the window.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—My brother has been out of work for about two years and last summer he had to give up his house and bring his wife and three children home to live. My sister-in-law has a terrible disposition. Never considers any one's feelings in what she says, but her feelings have to be handled with gloves. She never gets up in the morning to help Mother with the housework, but expects Mother to wait on her and her children and pick up after them. I help all I can, but I'm out at work all day, while sister-in-law sits in the living-room reading the paper. Last night I heard her say to my brother:

"I wish that at some time I might overhear some one talking about me. Then I would know what my faults are and why I have lost so many of my friends and I would try to improve." Shall I tell her about her faults and how she can improve, or shall I keep quiet and let her go on abusing my mother?

Answer—I earnestly advise you to take her at her word and tell her of her faults. There is not one chance in a thousand that it will do her any good or change her in any respect, but there is a small chance that it will make her so mad that she will get up and leave.

Never believe anybody when they tell you that they want to be told of their shortcomings in order that they may correct them. What they are fishing for is a compliment. They want you to tell them how beautiful and wonderful and great they are, but the minute you commence suggesting that they are high-tempered and lazy and no-account generally you have made an enemy for life. They never forgive you.

Honest criticism is something that few people are willing to take because it strips away the pink chiffons in which they have cloaked their weaknesses. For they not only disguise their faults so that they do not see them themselves, but they turn them into virtues. You never saw a virago who admitted she was a virago. She is always a high-spirited person who is so honest she speaks her own mind and does not go about pretending and pussyfooting like some hypocritical woman who is so self-satisfied that much would not melt in her mouth. Every slovenly woman camouflages her slovenliness by saying she does not care for dress. Every lazy woman pretends to have some mysterious ailment that keeps her from working, etc.

And if you tell Mrs. Brown that she is wasting money having little stoneware Johnny taught music, or that Mamie is running wild with a bad crowd, you have lost a friend forever.

So as a reformatory measure, telling people of their faults is bad medicine and never cures them, but it is a grand and sometimes the only way of ridding yourself of pestiferous relatives.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—What makes the world go round—money or love?

STAN.

Answer—The poets say that love makes the world go round. Cynics say that if money isn't everything it will buy the balance. I side with the poets, if you have to take your choice, but love and money make a grand combination and things go swiftest and smoothest when you have a little of both.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1935

Adverse stars appear to rule to-day, according to astrology. The morning hours bring surprising world conditions that affect stocks and bonds, but later in the day, helpful planetary influences are active.

Reputation is an asset conducive to deceptive activities in diplomacy and business. Surprises of many sorts are suggested by the stars.

Domestic affairs may reveal unrest and uncertainty. Politics should be cultivated because long nerve-strain now may produce decided changes in character. Thoughts should be disciplined and safeguarded, because the stars declare that there will be much social, economic and financial trouble. Many false prophecies will be abroad in the land.

This is not an auspicious day for seeking appointments or employment. Men in important places in business will be in disagreement or rebellious moods while this configuration prevails.

Overcast pictures are to be seen, along with great benefits, many problems for persons who make the commercial world go round, it is forecast.

Too much talking and too little doing will be apparent in the residential world in states and counties. The stars bores evil for cities in which there is selfish and corrupt administration. Women will find this a first-rate day for making plans that affect the careers of their children. Again the stars point out that girls should be trained to be self-supporting and the stars will choose unusual vocations.

Persons whose birthdate it is to have the augury of a year of cross-purposes that somehow will not well. Unexpected events are forecast.

Children born on this day probably will be brilliant in mind and endowed with artistic talents. Subjects of this sign of Pisces may attain great heights.

Those who have celebrated it as a birthday are Oliver Wendell Holmes, Justice of the United States Supreme Court, 1881; Homer C. Davenport, cartoonist, 1897.

CANADA VITAL LINK IN AIR

Hon. Grote Stirling Stresses Importance of Canada at Annual Aviators' Banquet

Montreal, March 7.—The importance of Canada as a main link in future world air highways was stressed by Hon. Grote Stirling, Minister of National Defence, yesterday evening in addressing the annual banquet of the Canadian Flying Club Association.

With the future of Canadian aviation in mind, the government looked to the C.F.C.A. to take a leading part. The minister regretted his inability to promise the association further assistance at the present time due to the state of national finances.

He trusted the opportunity would soon be forthcoming when he could feel justified in putting forward proposals to the cabinet that would enable the government, if they accepted his advice, to provide the assistance the association hoped for.

"A distinct relationship exists between the Department of National Defence and the Flying Clubs' Association," he said. The one-time expected clash of interests between the non-permanent flying forces and the flying clubs had never happened. It had been shown the clubs provided the very important task of training young men wishing to gain their commissions in the military aviation service.

Also present at the banquet were Major-General J. H. MacBrien, commander of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; Lt.-Col. W. A. Bishop, Canadian war ace, and J. A. D. McCurdy, Canadian aviation pioneer.

Nightingales brought to America and placed at the Bell singing tower in Florida, soon died, but morning birds learned their songs and carried on.

FAMOUS CRAFT NOW TOWBOAT

Former Cutter Snohomish Is Commissioned as Tugboat; Will Operate From Seattle

Seattle, March 7.—The famous coastguard cutter Snohomish, rescue ship which for a quarter of a century has been the gale of the North Pacific on her life-saving missions, yesterday received her official documents as a commercial tugboat and beginning to-day will again engage in active service.

She passed inspection with flying colors, hull, machinery and boilers being in perfect condition, so again her 300 horsepower, which makes her the most powerful tug on the Pacific Coast, will be available when some disabled ship needs a tugboat that can be counted upon to win back to port.

The Snohomish has the remarkable record of never turning back, regardless of weather conditions. She was built to stand anything that might be encountered on the high seas. Measuring 153 feet over all, with a beam of twenty-nine feet and a depth of fifteen feet, she is 597 gross tons.

Her owners, the Puget Sound Tug and Barge Company, announced yesterday that Capt. Alex. (Buster) Halstead, who knows the steamer lines as well as his home life, will be in command. And those familiar with Capt. Halstead's work in recent years will say "an able skipper on an able tug."

LAUNCH NEW PATROL SHIP

Mv. Bonilla Rock No. 2 Will Be Used by Government on Skeena River

Vancouver, March 7.—The fishery patrol Mv. Bonilla Rock No. 2, launched this morning on Coal Harbor, she is a seagoing vessel of fifty-two feet, built of oak ribs and British Columbia fir, and has a complement of nine crew and accommodations for four men. She will be used on patrol on the Skeena River, replacing P. L. Bonilla Rock No. 1, which is to be scrapped.

Tenders have been called by the Dominion Department of Public Works for repairs to the south jetty on the Fraser River and construction of four dikes on the Fraser Delta. The diking work includes construction at Albion Island, extension of the trailing wall at Woodward's Landing and addition to wing dams No. 2 and No. 3 at Stevenson. Total cost is expected to approximate $85,000.

Ms. Bonington Court of the Vancouver-Montreal-Halifax line is due March 20, being the last ship out of Halifax for Victoria and Vancouver this season. She will load for eastern Canada, being the first ship to load here in 1935 for Montreal.

The Hardingham has arrived from Japan and reported a good passage. Ms. Yucia, Captain W. Bullock, of the Vancouver-British West Indies service, is due here to-morrow from the West Indies with general cargo and a large sugar consignment.

Five Chinese aviators from the Central Aviation School maintained by the Chinese government at Hangchow, will be among 300 passengers sailing Saturday for the Orient aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, Captain A. V. R. Lovegrove.

They are P. T. Mow, P. S. Liu, Y. T. Cheng, K. S. K. Yen and C. P. Wang. They have been studying commercial aviation in Europe and the United States.

Other passengers sailing will include T. Aquilino, London; Miss Phyllis Gates, Victoria, sailing for Bombay; Hiro Lai, Delhi, head of the veterinary organization in India, and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Bray of Toronto.

ANOTHER LINER GOES TO THE JUNK HEAP

This picture shows the well-known Atlantic liner Minnowaska, of 22,000 tons, being broken up at Smith's Yard, Port Glasgow. Built in 1923 for ocean service, she is the largest ship to be broken up on the Clyde. Work was begun early last month and is expected to be finished in four or five months.

U.S. LAUNCHES NEW AIR CRUISER

Santa Monica, Calif., March 7.—The navy yesterday launched, with-out ceremony and with prohibition against photographers, its newest and greatest armored cruiser of the air. The big high-winged monoplane, construction of which at the Douglas Aircraft factory here has been shrouded with secrecy, was taken down to the beach Tuesday and, after a few finishing touches, was launched behind the Santa Monica breakwater early yesterday.

The great ship is expected to be the forerunner of a fleet which will provide a new line of air defense for the Pacific Coast and insular possessions.

LARGE EUROPE CARGO COMING

Ms. Delftyk Expected Tomorrow Morning From London; 325 Tons of Freight

Bringing thirty passengers and a fair amount of cargo, the Ms. Emma Alexander of the Pacific Steamship Lines will reach the Rithet Pier this evening at 10.30 o'clock from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, according to a message received this morning by William M. Allan, local agent.

The Emma will remain here until midnight before proceeding to Seattle. To-morrow morning will see the arrival of the Holland-America liner Paul Armand, with its crew of eighteen. In recent storms, was indicated to-day by the discovery of wreckage on the coast near here.

Harry Clark, local representative of the Fruit Express Line, was advised this morning that the new mailboat, which is to be delivered to the company at Victoria, will arrive here Monday morning to load a consignment of Okanagan apples.

Wallace Beery To Fly Plane

New York, March 7.—Wallace Beery, 240-pound character actor and screen comedian, who gets dizzy in New York's tall buildings, to-day was impatiently waiting delivery of his new airplane in which he hopes to pilot himself back and forth between the west coast and New York.

Immaculate in mouse gray gabardine worn with a black shirt and pearl spots, Beery explained that sky-scrapers made his best swim, but that he can fly 18,000 feet in a plane "and it doesn't bother me at all."

Noah Beery, who impersonates villains on the screen, is here with his brother for a visit before leaving for London to work for a British film firm.

Hood Repairs Are Completed

Portsmouth, March 7.—The giant battle-cruiser Hood sailed yesterday for exercises with the Mediterranean fleet, repairs completed following her collision with the battle-cruiser Benbow last month, which resulted in three courts-martial.

She flew the flag of Rear Admiral Sidney Bailey, commander of the battle-cruiser squadron, and was in command of Capt. P. T. B. Tower, both of whom were acquitted. Captain H. R. Sawbridge of the Benbow was convicted and dismissed his command, going on half pay.

The Benbow followed the Hood into drydock for repairs.

WOULD NOT LOAD COAL

Nanaimo Longshoremen Refused to Work Ship; Other Unions Not in Sympathy

Associated Press
Seattle, March 7.—The International Longshoremen's Association yesterday ignored a request from the Marine Transport Workers' Industrial Union of Nanaimo, B.C., asking Everett longshoremen to refuse to load the Alaska Steamship Company's freighter Latouche, leaders here reported.

The Canadian union recently opposed the loading of coal on to the Latouche at Nanaimo by non-members. The steamship company, however, did not employ the longshoremen; they were employed by the coal company which had contracted to put the coal on the vessel.

Upon the Latouche's arrival at Everett, the Canadian union telegraphed the Everett local of the I.L.A. suggesting a sympathy walkout. The request was denied.

Meanwhile, the operators of four Alaska steamship lines and agents of three maritime unions were attempting to reach an agreement on higher wages and shorter day proposals, in a new contract coming up, and some progress was reported.

French Schooner Is Feared Lost

Leghorn, Italy, March 7.—The loss of the French two-masted schooner Paul Armand, with its crew of eighteen, in recent storms, was indicated to-day by the discovery of wreckage on the coast near here.
